BÜK

Bük (in German: Wichs) is a town in Vas County, in the Kőszeg district. Bükfürdő belongs to it.

- Area: 20.86 km²
- Total population: 3,765 (2025)

It lies 27 kilometres north-east of Szombathely, where the Alpokalja foothills meet the Little Hungarian Plain (Kisalföld), on the plain of the Répce river. On the eastern side of the town is the Bük-Bő-Gór reservoir.

In terms of guest nights spent in commercial accommodation, it is the sixth most popular settlement in Hungary.

BÜKFÜRDŐ

The miraculous healing water of Bükfürdő surfaces through 4 wells. The thermal waters drawn from the Szent Kelemen, Felsőbüki Nagy Pál, Bükaqua and Szent Imre wells all hold medicinal water certification.

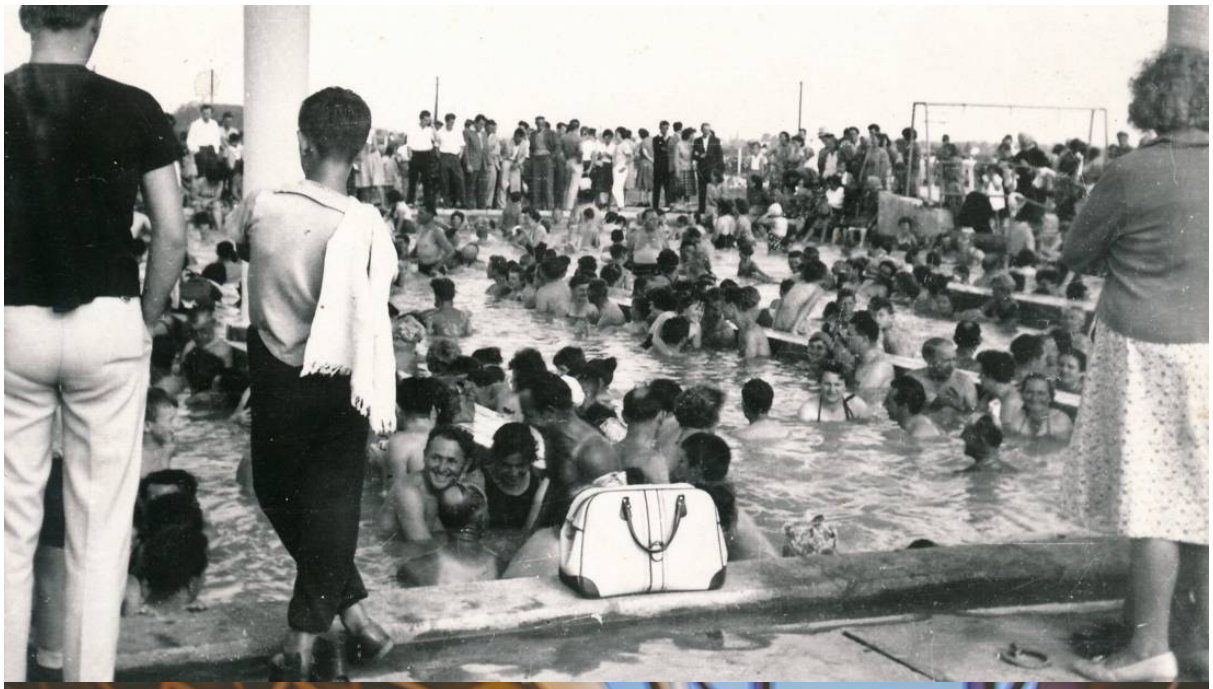

With its unique composition – alkaline hydrogen-carbonate, high in calcium, magnesium and fluoride – the healing water has an exceptionally high mineral content of more than 15,201.58 mg/l even by international comparison, and therefore has a uniquely beneficial effect on the body.

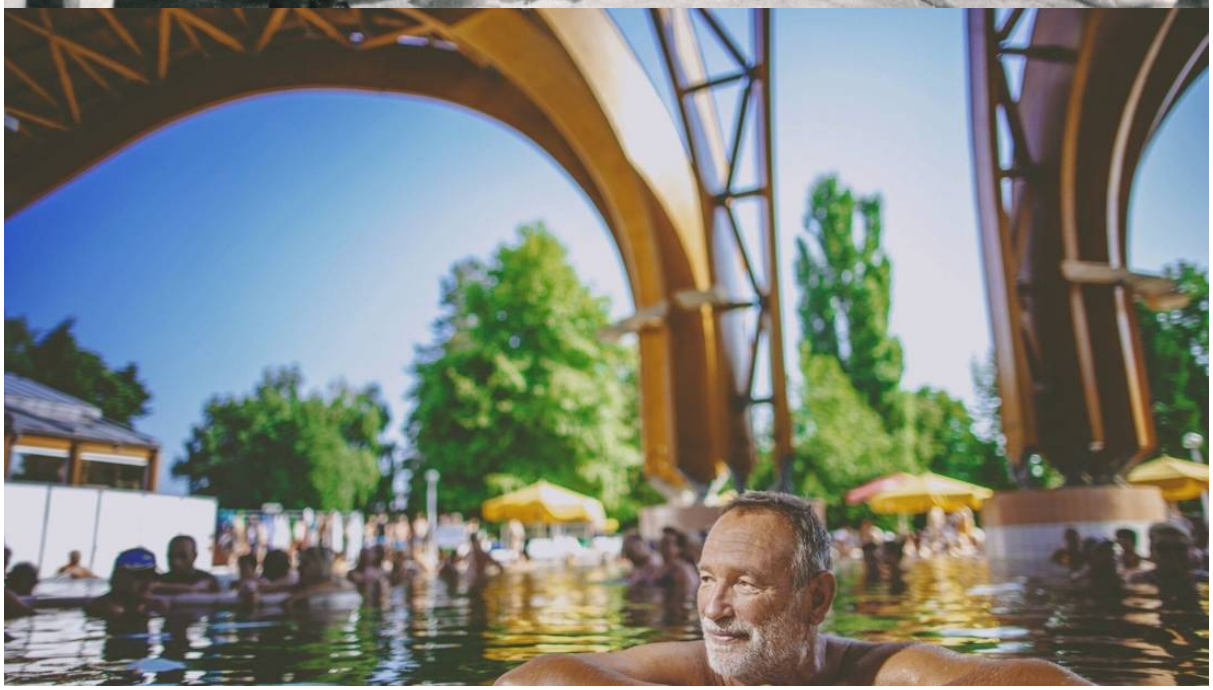

Sodium chloride has an anti-inflammatory effect, calcium and fluoride play an important role in bone metabolism, magnesium has a positive effect on muscle function, and carbon dioxide improves circulation.

It is excellently suited to the treatment of almost all musculoskeletal diseases and can be used effectively for: calcification, cartilage wear, osteoporosis, disc disease (discopathy), lumbago, ankylosing spondylitis (Bechterew's disease), chronic joint inflammation, gout, soft-tissue rheumatism, as well as rehabilitation after orthopaedic and neurosurgical operations, post-accident aftercare, chronic gynaecological and urological inflammations, and chronic gastritis, ulcer disease and digestive disorders.

The healing water can also be used as a drinking cure for chronic gastritis, ulcer disease and digestive disorders, and for the prevention and treatment of osteoporosis.

KÚRIA

The Kúria apartments are located in a quiet residential part of Bükfürdő, only a few kilometres from the spa. The accommodation has 8 apartments on two floors. The building has a well-kept garden.

On the ground floor of the Kúria's annex, three self-contained apartments have been created, each with its own bathroom and kitchenette. A clean style that fits the surroundings and interior solutions to suit every need were important to us. On the ground floor of the building we have created a separate common room and a spacious dining room so that gatherings and events can be held indoors. On the upper floor of the apartment house there are five separate rooms, each with its own bathroom; each has two separate living spaces and is furnished with a double bed and a sofa bed. At the end of the corridor on the upper floor there is an impressive dining room and a well-equipped kitchen, where groups can spend time together comfortably. The Kúria apartment houses and the huge garden that goes with them are excellent for holding events, whether family events, weddings or corporate team-building.
